Once upon a fractured time, there was harmony. She was the beautiful queen.

They, her loving citizens, cheered:

CHEERS

She was happy...

But then the chords began to change...

They told her the best wasn't enough, that they wanted more, and so they had started to rebel.

She was too powerful, and so they tore her from their own way.

They knew they weren't free, but neither was she.

We want a new king.
Sometimes she thought,

"Am I really so bad?"

"So awful?"

but it wasn't about her...
MY WISDOM IS JUST AN
REFLECTION OF HER'S

And I guess you could.

Say she was no enemy.

All I've done is make her listen to herself.

She showed her herself.

but once she smashed me.

SMASH

She thought I was still there.
She felt she could no longer live in a world where she was to blame for her own destruction.

"So I saw her look around..."

@glares @smiles turns

"And Snow White was all she found..."
IT'S ALL HER FAULT. "DIE."
"I'M GONNA KILL HER."
"I DID EVERYTHING."
"THIS ISN'T FAIR."

Why does she get to be happy?
"She doesn't deserve to be happy."
"Why am I suffering?"
"I hate her."

END.
Once upon a time there was a princess...

She was the second... at age 10.

But then the world began to change...

They told her how the world wasn't perfect and she wasn't alone.

Sometimes you have to.

SCREAM... but it wasn't about her.

Remember not to eat tomorrow.
SMASH

The last one came on longer live in a world were she was not brains for her own destruction.

so I saw her back around

\[ E = mc^2 \]

And something way all the front...

It's all her fault I die.

why does she get to be happy?

This isn't fair.

in the present her daughter her life spins, present mind

END.
